To whom it may concern,

I am writing in reference to Renzo Hall's excellence in academics and in work ethics. Renzo is a student in my Algebra 2 class this year. He currently holds a solid B in the class. I also first had the pleasure of teaching Renzo in a PreTech Integrated Geometry course as well as an integrated Algebra 2/Geometry course during his junior year. Renzo has definitely grown in confidence as a person and as a mathematician throughout his high school career! He works hard to complete assignments and to make sure he understands concepts. He communicates well with me and checks in if he ever needs to. He also works together well with peers and always has a positive attitude. I have been very impressed with Renzo's exceptional math skills and work ethic this year. His intelligence, diligence, and thoughtfulness will be powerful assets for anywhere he will work in the future. All of these traits would also be strengths toward any college programs or other career advancement opportunities.

I am pleased to recommend Renzo, and I know that he will be doing great things in the near future!

Sincerely,
